DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,718,237. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the following:

It would have been obvious that the method of the patent claim was performed by a computer program and it would have been inherent that the program was stored on a computer-readable storage device.

Therefore, the method for transmitting geographic locations of a mobile object to a principle entity over a wireless communication system, which is implemented by a set of computer instructions as claimed, would be similar to the method for transmitting geographic locations of a mobile object to a principle entity over a wireless communication system as disclosed in the patent.

Allowable Subject Matter

The examiner has found none of the references, either alone or in a combination, fairly suggests the limitations of claims 20 and 31, thus claims 20-38 are set in a condition for allowance.

Claims 2-19 have been cancelled by the applicant.
